

To Build More Homes For Veterans

A contract between the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the William H. Harman Corporation in Philadelphia provides for the construction of 10,000 factory-built, moderately-priced steel houses for sale to veterans.

The directive providing the construction was the second issued within a week, as a part of the industrialized housing program provided for under the Veterans Emergency Housing act. The first called for the production of 19,400 factory-built plywood houses by the Homeless Corporation of Chicago. Together the two directives provide for the production of 29,400 houses by the end of 1947.

The National Housing Agency's technical office has estimated that the cost of a Harman house, erected and fully equipped, and including $1,000 for the price of a lot or land, will range from $6,000 to $7,500, depending on whether it is a two or three-bedroom type.

The company plans to get into production in December with an initial output that month of 50 homes, stepping it up to 200 in January, 300 in February, 600 in March, 800 in April, and reaching a peak of 1,000 homes a month in May.

TIMES SCRIBE CITES GARY SCHOOL BOARD ACTION

In a series of articles in the Chicago Times, Hazel MacDonald, staff writer, commended the action of the Gary school board in ousting racial segregation from the Indiana city's public schools.

Miss MacDonald called School Supt. Charles Lutz and members of the Gary school board "realists all," who having "tried out Negro segregation in the public schools for 20 years and found it not to be the right answer" have reversed the school policy.

The resolution, made by the school board on August 27, declares that "Children under the jurisdiction of the Gary public schools shall not be discriminated against in the school districts in which they live or within the schools which they attend because of race, color, or religion."

This resolution stipulated that implementation of this policy should begin "not later than Sept. 1, 1947."

The Times journalist cited the fact that the school board's new directive rectified a mistake made in 1927 when it bowed to the demands of 1,400 striking white school pupils and their parents for segregation.

Begin 1946 Community Fund Drive

Red feathers stuck jauntily in hat bands or coat lapels will soon be sprouting all over Milwaukee county. But their significance will be far more than another fashion whim. Each red feather will be an indication that a community-minded citizen has donated to the 1946 Milwaukee County Community Fund Drive.

The annual campaign, which is being held this year from Oct. 11 to 24, with industrial solicitation beginning Oct. 7, has a 1946 goal of $2,075,157. The drive is an annual county-wide consolidated appeal to provide partial support for the 35 Red Feather service agencies which make up the Community Fund.

When you make your contribution to the Fund drive and receive your red feather you are assured that you will not be bothered throughout the year by door-bell ringing charity solicitors. And most important, you are insured that the citizens of Milwaukee county throughout the next year will be provided skilled help through the 35 Red Feather Fund services.

1150 JACKSON EVENINGS TILL 8; OPEN SUNDAY

MEN FIGHT OVER WOMAN: 1. KILLED

While the woman they both watched, two men fought Saturday night until one was dead and the other limped away injured, Wabash police said this week.

The victim of the alleged jealous altercation, police said, was Leon Simmons, 36, of 342 E. 42nd st., who was shot three times in the shoulder and abdomen in the hallway outside his apartment.

Mrs. Ethel Whitby, 30, who told police she lived with Simmons, disclosed that Robert Jackson, of 4306 Wabash av., whom she kept company with before meeting the dead man, was his slayer.

Jackson, she said, came to the apartment about 11:30 p.m. She was in bed and Simmons opened the door. She heard Simmons say: "I thought I told you not to come here any more."

Mrs. Whitby said that her consort went into the kitchen for an ice pick and returned to the doorway. The men began to struggle and she heard them bump into the door. A few moments later she heard three shots and saw both men slump before the door.

Jackson, who was underneath, got up and left, she said, but Simmons attempted to arise, staggered and fell.

Police who are searching for Jackson requested a continuance at the inquest Monday to Oct. 22. Mrs. Whitby, who is separated from her husband and the mother of three children is held as a material witness.
